Oyez! Oyez! £5.4 Million Up For Grabs
Town Crier Makes Final "A-peal" for £5.4 Million Unclaimed Lotto Winner in North Lanarkshire

National Lottery operator Camelot has launched a last-minute bid to unite a mystery Lotto jackpot winner in North Lanarkshire with their £5.4 million prize.

Professional town crier John Smith, from Falkirk, was brought in to make a final public 'call for help' near North Lanarkshire Council's headquarters in Motherwell, in an attempt to jog the winner's memory and prompt them to claim the cash before it's too late.

The winner only has until 5.30pm this Thursday (9 March 2006) to come forward. If no-one comes forward with the winning ticket before the prize claim deadline, then the prize money, plus all the interest generated, will go to the Good Causes – adding to the £18 billion already raised through sales of lottery tickets over the last 11 years. Since the launch of The National Lottery in 1994, North Lanarkshire has received over £38 million in lottery funding, benefiting over 1,400 projects in the area.

The winning ticket was bought in the North Lanarkshire area for the Lotto draw on Saturday 10 September 2005, and the lucky ticket-holder matched all six numbers to win an amazing £5,476,246. The winning Lotto numbers on 10 September were 1, 8, 24, 27, 34 and 46.

A National Lottery spokesperson said: "This really is the winner's last chance to claim the money. It's a huge prize and could change the winner's life completely. Come on North Lanarkshire players – time is running out!"
