Suffolk couple scoop £3.9 million Lotto Jackpot

A couple from North Suffolk is looking forward to the future after scooping all six numbers from the Saturday Lotto (17 May 2008), and winning an incredible £3,980,528 jackpot.

Stan and Pat Cable were at home near Eye in Suffolk when they discovered their win. Pat said:

“We were about to wash our Border Terrier, Rudi, when Stan said he wanted to check the Lotto numbers on Teletext. Next thing I knew he was telling me we’d got all six numbers! We were in such complete shock we had to go to the nearest shop to double check the numbers and then we went to our niece to triple check them on the internet.

“Needless to say, the dog never did get washed!”

The couple have been considering what to buy with their life-changing win. Stan, who does voluntary work for the Stowmarket Monday Club which helps adults with learning disabilities said:

“We don’t want to move as we love our home. But we’d both like to buy a caravan and go on a holiday of a lifetime. Pat doesn’t like flying so it’ll probably be a cruise. I’d also like a big 4x4, but Pat’s not keen. What we really need is a new sofa as we’ve only ever had two in all 37 years of our married

The couple play the Lotto using the same numbers every week – and have done since the Lottery was launched. Their winning numbers for the Saturday 17 May draw were 03, 11, 12, 41, 46 and 47. The winning ticket was bought at Woolworth's in Stowmarket, where the couple shops every weekend.

This Wednesday's Lotto jackpot is an estimated £2.5 million and the Lotto Extra jackpot is an estimated £11 million.
